Twin Foes to Life Are Indigestion and Constipation. Their primary symptoms are among the most distressing of minor human ailments, and a host of discuses, speedily resultant from them, mutually aggravate each other and assail at once the whole machinery and assail at once the whole machinery of life. Nausea, Foul Breath, Sour Stomach, Dizziness, Headaches, Billious Fever, Jaundice, Dyspepsla, Kidney Diseases, Piles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dropsy, and various Skin Disorders, are among the symptoms and maladies caused by derangement of of the stomach and bowels.

A Thorough Purgative medicine is the first necessity for cure. Then the cathartic effect must be maintained, in a mild degree, just sufficient to prevent a recurrence of costiveness, and at the same time the liver, kidneys and atomach must be stimulated and Ayer's Pills Accomplish this restorative work better than any other medicine. They are searching and thorough, yet mild, in their purgative action. They do not gripe the patient, and do not induce a costive relative, as is the effect of other catharties. Withal, they possess special properties, diurette, hepatic and tonic, of the highest medicinal value and Absolutely Cure All diseases proceeding from disorder of the digestive and assimilatory organs. The prompt use of AYER'S PILLS to correct the first indications of costiveness, averts the serious illuesses which neglect of that condition would inevitably induce. All irregularities in the action of the bowels—looseness as well as constipation—are beneficially controlled by AYER'S PILLS, and for the stimulation of digestive organs weakened by long-continued dyspepsia, one or two of AYER'S PILLS daily, after dinner, will do more good than anything else.

Leading Physicians Concede That AYEE'S PILLS are the best of all enthartic medicines, and many practitioners, of the highest standing, customarily kinds of productions and to all constitutions of men, from the sun-burnt inhabitant of a tropical plain to the hardy mountaineer inured to perpetual snows." A few days ago the secretary of our society To the Editors of the Appeal: HOLLY SPRINGS, MISS., November 12, 1884. "Come to my sun-land! Come with me

Bilious fevers exist to a certain traveler from this favored land whom we have met, or whose works we have read, extent in the fall of the year, but seem to be confined to those who disregard the ordinary sanitary rules." is not less fervent in its praise. To these voices we would humbly add our own, and we believe that we are entitled to do so with something like authority, for we

And now, most valuable timbers in the world: ma-hogany, logwood, the gigantic cedar, the through the efforts of a few zealous and indefatigable friends, our labor is about to indefatigable friends, our labor is about to be crowned with success. We have made public our purpose. One society has been organized in this State and another in permsylvania. And others are forming, not only in Mississippi and in the neighboring States, but also in the North. Several hundred young men will soon leave that homes in this geometry and forms. Successful and varieties of valuable fruits, spices and medicinal plants are immense. The quantities and varieties of valuable fruits, spices and medicinal plants are immense. Sarsaparilla and vanilla vines, the draco, but also in the North. Several hundred young men will soon leave.

That this is a matter of public interest and a fair subject of public criticism none can deny. But we claim also that in justice to ourselves we should be allowed and a fair subject of public criticism none can deny. But we claim also that in justice to ourselves we should be allowed gum tree), the guaco, an antidote to poison, and many other plants from which which have led us to seek a new home in a foreign land. This becomes especially necessary in view, not only of the general ignorance concerning these States, but poison, and many other plants from which extracts are, or might be made, grow wild and in great abundance. As to the necessary sliment of wan, a word only will suffice. In addition to the immense quantities of all kinds of game—animal, fowl and fish, including the turtle and oyster—are immense herds of half-wild cattle, which recommends the suffice of the control also of the many powerful misconception which have taken possession of the popular mind, and are almost universally entertained. Our motives, the inducements which roam over the table lands and broad savannahs of the interior. In connection held out to us, and our prospects, from our own point of view, we shall endeavor with the fact that Nicaragua is the finest fruit country in the world, take these words of our historian: "Maize, or Indian corn, rice and frejole, a nutritious kind of In the first place we wish to testify that the individuals composing our society are not mere vulgar adventurers, but, on the pulse, which is very much used, yield, with scarcely any cultivation, three and contrary, young men of intelligence, edu-cation and high personal honor. Their leaders are educated gentlemen, most of whom belong to the learned professions, often four crops a year, and with 500 fold, or even greater increase each harvest." and all of whom, in their several communities, maintain the highest reputation for ability and integrity. We wish also to state that our society contains many Pennsylvania alone furnishing, at the present date, about thirty names to our roll of membership, and therefore, in leaving our native land, we certainly mean to cast no reflection upon Mississippi or upon the South. Nor is it necessarily any reflection, on our part, upon the United States that it does not, in our opinion, offer to us the same prospects of making our fortunes that are not, in our opinion, offer to us the same prospects of making our fortunes that are at present offered by Nicaragua. Surely the merchants of the British East India Company, because they left the prote tion of the noblest and freest government of Europe to seek their fortunes at the antipodes, were not less patriotic than those who remained in imbecile indigence at home. Surely we do not love our country by himself, and to remain for a specified number of years exempt from taxation. Each immigrant will at once be made a citizen of the republic and exempt from military duty, and each colony will receive a charter guaranteeing its right to local self-government and to non-interference on the part of the State in its mu-nicipal affairs; and each immigrant, after he has been in the country two weeks, will be given $40 in money—a sum who remained in imbecile indigence at home. Surely we do not love our country less than those young Englishmen who for more than two centuries have been settling by hundreds and thousands in the land of the Great Mogul, at Madras, Bombay and Calcutta. Lord Clive, one of the foremost figures in English history—the man who gave to Britain the mightiest of her subject empires—went to India at the age of eighteen, a poor, neglected boy, holding an inferior clerkship. He went like hundreds of others, to seek his fortunes in a colony, not under the British ufficient to pay his passage back to his native land. And now a word concerning the future of this wonderful State and we have done. If the object of our society be accomplished-the colonizing of this and adjoining own individual fortunes will be the very least of the desired, of the inevitable re like hundreds of others, to seek his fort-unes in a colony, not under the British flag, nor protected by the British govern-ment; and it was in this colony that he gaised, at the early age of thirty-four, both his princely fort-une and undying fame. railroad corporations, which have, in nearly every instance, violated with impunity their contracts with the govern-ment; the disposal of these lands at mere nominal prices to foreign capitalists, to be held for speculative purposes; the estab-lishing of a system of finance by which labor must pay from its yearly earnings more than twelve per cent. for the use of capital; a revenue system by which the entire population are taxed for the sole benefit of a few capitalists, and a system of extravagance and corruption which would put to the blush a Roman pro-consul in the worst governed of Roman territories. These and many other results of Republican rule have made this a fair and goodly land for men even of moder-signs of such another long polar night as fell upon Europe after the fall of the West-ern empire, and he cries, with the Eng-lish laureate—

But these considerations, great as they are, would not have led us to leave our
